June Business Before Hours (BBH) stacks up as a winner for Step by Step Academy and Katie's Pancakes

Michele LaMarche and Mark Labardee

Chamber members and guests who attended the June Business Before Hours event "flipped" for the activities planned by BBH hosts Step by Step Academy and Katie's Pancakes, which included substantial food — and food for thought. A beautiful outdoor setting on the campus of the former Harding Hospital, where Step by Step Academy is housed, provided a pleasant backdrop for early morning networking. Step by Step's executive director, Michele LaMarche, welcomed guests and informed them about the work of the non-profit treatment center, which provides a safe, nurturing, learning environment to children with autism using the Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) model. Mark Labardee, owner of Katie's Pancakes, provided breakfast, flipping pancakes onto the plates of brave attendees to showcase his pancake-party skills for office and holiday parties, school and church functions and fundraisers. Bruce Bernard introduced members of the Chamber's Impact Tips Group, a pilot project for a network referral group. (Contact the Chamber for further details about the group.)

American craft beers now available at House Wine

House Wine has installed three taps to pour high-quality American craft beers. House Wine also opens at 9 a.m. on Saturdays for the Worthington Farmers Market, encouraging shoppers to stop in for a bottle of wine to take home. They offer a special bubbly drink until noon for only $3. House Wine teamed up with another Chamber member, The Wayward Seed Farm, to introduce the Wayward Fizz, a bubbly concoction that includes sparkling wine and fresh fruit from Wayward Seed.

Wine dinner benefits Firefighter's Community Park

Several Chamber members assisted in the planning and sponsorship of a Firehouse Wine Dinner to benefit the Worthington Firefighter's Community Park on July 14. A dinner at The Worthington Inn featured wines from Hook and Ladder Winery of Sonoma Valley and three courses of "firehouse" inspired dishes from chef Tom Smith, including crab fritters; firehouse black bean chili; and mixed grill of chicken and beef with Carolina slaw, roasted potatoes and corn relish. Donnie Austin of House Wine, a member of the Leadership Worthington class attending under a Chamber-sponsored scholarship, assisted with the wine selections. Fundraising for the event was a class project for seven of this year's Leadership Worthington graduates. Tilton's Automotive Service donated a restored, used automobile for a prize raffle. Several Chamber businesses were among the donors of silent auction items. Among other sponsors of the event were State Farm Insurance - Bill Alsnauer Agency, Anthony Lordo, D.D.S., King Business Interiors, Sign-a-Rama, Doubletree Hotel, Worthington Jewelers, Cam Taylor Realtors, Park National Bank and McConnell Arts Center.
