Award Sponsors Background

Partners for Citizenship and Character, formed in 1997, is a coalition of Worthington-area business leaders, educators, community officials, students, parents and residents. The organization strives to promote the practices of good character and citizenship by providing programs that serve that goal. A non-profit organization, PCC offers a variety of programs in nearly all the Worthington schools, reaches out to corporations and businesses with Ethics in Business programs and offers many opportunities to advance its mission in collaboration with the community.

The 750-member Worthington Area Chamber of Commerce has been making connections for business for 50 years. The organization provides member businesses with opportunities for networking, referrals, professional development and advocacy, while contributing to the economic vitality of the region.

These two organizations are collaborating in sponsorship of the Business of Character Award, to be awarded quarterly (January, April, July and October). Winners will be selected by a committee comprised of four representatives from the two sponsoring organizations. Winners will be announced in Chamber publications and on the Chamber's Web site, at Worthington Area Chamber of Commerce events, and in the local media.
